British Academy: Social Welfare for Sustainable Development in Southeast Asia.

Dear Dr Regus

We are pleased to confirm your participation in the upcoming British Academy-supported programme of activities Social Welfare for Sustainable Development in Southeast Asia.

The Writing Workshops, funded by The British Academy, is a collaboration of the University of York (UK), Gadjah Mada University (Indonesia), Thammasat University (Thailand) and Huachiew Chalermprakiet University (Thailand).

Workshop activities aim to encourage regional voices in academic writing and publications and broaden academic and research networks available to Indonesian and Thai social welfare scholars.

Selected participants take part in a series of online activities (including Plenary and in-programme sessions), receive ongoing support, and contribute to a final in country workshop (December 2021 or March 2022).

We are delighted that you are able to participate and look forward to what we hope will be engaging and productive activities over the coming months.

Kind regards,

Professor Neil Lunt
On behalf of Workshop Team
